

The Good Life Project

The Good Life Project is a program of PEACE Multicultural Services, a service of Relationships Australia SA.

Our staff work with people from Culturally and Linguistically Diverse backgrounds, regardless of their visa status.

We provide services that help individuals, families and communities to overcome barriers and achieve happy and healthy relationships.

Our services are:

- Free, which means we will not ask you to pay for the service you receive from us
- Confidential, which means we will never gossip about you with anyone from your community or outside your community.
- Flexible, which means we tailor our services to suit your needs and circumstances to help you achieve the best outcome possible
- Accessible, which means we can use interpreters, when needed. We can also provide services from our office that is located closest to you, at a hospital/clinic or even at your home.

The Good Life Project provides an opportunity for all to contribute to building healthy families and stronger communities.

The Good Life Project focuses on:

1. Building leadership capabilities in young African people.
2. Working with African women to promote healthy family relationships.
3. Providing opportunities for African men to be an influence around the stability of African families.

We would love to hear from you if you are a young person, a woman or a man from an African background, and are interested in this project.

To get further information and/or to organise a session for your community about the Good Life in South Australia, please contact:
